NEWSLETTER OF JESUIT SOCIAL SCIENTISTS OF SOUTH ASIA

OCTOBER 2023

From the Editor's Desk

Dear Friends,
Greetings.

Pleased to forward you the 3rd Issue of Anusandhan, the Newsletter of Jesuit Social Scientists of South Asia. One of its objective is to disseminate the knowledge production done by some of its members during the last six months. It consists of completed and ongoing research projects; published books and articles; programmes organized and participated in; and forthcoming events.

We are pleased to announce four more PhDs viz., Martin Puthuserry (CCU), Ranjit George, Joseph George and Sanil Mayilkunnel (Kerala) and welcome them to JSSSA.

We have completed a round of Zonal meetings of north, central, south and western, and the minutes have been circulated to you after the meetings. However, a composite summary of the minutes of all four zones will be sent to you separately soon.

I wish to thank the zonal coordinators and the local organisers for the excellent organization of zonal meetings. North Zone: Tom Perumallil and Donatus Kujur at Matigarha; central zone: Vincent Ekka and Vinod at Raipur; western zone: Denzil Fernandes and James Dabhi at Vadodara; South zone: Alwyn D'Souza and Ranjit George at Trivandrum. I also thank the respective provincials: Ranjit Tigga, E.P. Mathew, Durai Fernand and Wilfred Lobo of these provinces for arranging hospitality.

The zonal meetings were well attended and the level of participation was high. A concern was expressed to raise the level of knowledge production despite administrative and teaching responsibilities. The two concept notes, 1) re-imagining India and 2) Christian contribution to nation building were taken up for discussion. Each participant made a presentation on sub-themes and discussion followed.

A project proposal by Frazer Mascarenhas and Savio Abreu on the NEP, as well as a concept note by Anto and Anthony Dais will also be sent to you soon.

We are in the process of planning for a national conference in February 2024 and will send you the details I soon.

Thank you for your prompt responses and enthusiasm.

Warm regards and happy Diwali.

Lancy Lobo

A. Indigenous-Led Participatory and Cumulative Impact Assessment on Traditional Ecosystem Services (ASI-JRDS)

The study on Indigenous-Led Participatory and Cumulative Impact Assessment on Traditional Ecosystem Services was funded by Aluminium Stewardship Initiative (ASI), based in Australia. The objective of the study was to evolve a cumulative impact assessment methodology on traditional ecosystems services by the participation and leadership of the local, affected indigenous communities. It is an attempt to evolve a comprehensive impact assessment methodology keeping in mind the contexts of the indigenous communities in Sweden, Australia, Ghana, Suriname and India. The study is completed and the final report is submitted to ASI in the month of July, 2023.

B. A Historical Study of Tribal Chiefdoms of Jharkhand: Kherwar of Ramgarh, Munda of Bundu, Bhumij of Jungle Mahal, Nagwansi of Ranchi, Santhal of Hazaribagh & Others.

A historical study of tribal chiefdoms of Jharkhand: Kherwar of Ramgarh, Munda of Bundu, Bhumij of Jungle Mahal, Nagwansi of Ranchi, Santhal of Hazaribagh & Others was offered by the Tribal Research Institute, Ranchi, Jharkhand. The objective of the study was to reconstitute the histories of the dynasties and their role in state formation, tracing a history of the tribal chiefdoms, their way of life, governance systems and the impact of Sanskritization on the development of the Chiefdom and its people.

C. Biodiversity Conservation Health and Wellbeing of the Indigenous Peoples:

Since the year 2020, a long-term online meetings, negotiations and presentations were going on with the Professors and Researchers of the University of Alberta, Canada to engage into a global research programme on “Biodiversity Conservation, Health and Wellbeing of the Indigenous Peoples.”
